TEKST 1

- 1p ● 1 In een jeugdblad lees je de filmrubriek 'Sneakapeek'. Welke film moet je beslist zien volgens de rubriek?
- A The Princess Diaries
 - B The Majestic
 - C The Others
 - D High Heels and Low Lifes

Sneakapeek

this month you'll be watching...

THE PRINCESS DIARIES (U)

What's the deal?

Mia (Ann Hathaway) lives happily with her crazy painter mother until her grandmother (Julie Andrews) turns up, announcing herself Queen of Genovia. Mia's boring everyday life is anything but boring when she finds out she's a princess!

Is it any good?

There's a soppy love story, a moral friendship story, a few American "shut ups!" and something to do with leg popping. Confused? Rent it with some mates and have a giggle!

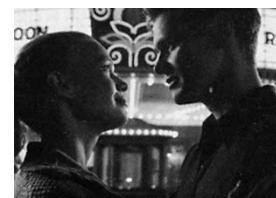

THE MAJESTIC (12)

What's the deal?

Jim Carrey is a Hollywood movie writer who bumps his head, forgets who he is and ends up living the life of another man.

Is it any good?

Despite knowing he's lost his memory people keep asking Jim: "Remember me?" This is one movie to avoid at all costs!

THE OTHERS (12)

What's the deal?

Set in the 1940's, it's about a woman (Nicole Kidman) who lives in a big house with her two children, both of whom are allergic to sunlight. When they employ new serving staff, the fun really begins when the children start seeing intruders.

Is it any good?

You'll never guess the ending of this film – a twist to beat all twists. It's an absolute must-see. So snuggle up with your boyfriend and get the cushions ready. It's thrilling, chilling and will make you jump like hell!

HIGH HEELS AND LOW LIFES (15)

What's the deal?

Best friends Shannon (Minnie Driver) and Frances (Mary McCormack) unearth a bank robbery plan. They con money from the villains but when a bystander meets a violent end, the girls realise they're in it too deep.

Is it any good?

There are some funny bits, and Mary McCormack is a scream as an American actress, but why does Minnie Driver wear flimsy dresses when she's chasing gangsters? Beats us!

TEKST 2

Je leest in het blad Cosmo girl de rubriek 'Boys' Confessions'. Daarin vertellen Paul en Matt over een moment waarop ze zich vreselijk hebben geschaamd.

- 1p ● 2 Waarom schaamde Paul zich voor zijn vriendin?
A Ze juichte voor een doelpunt van de tegenpartij.
B Ze moedigde Paul's team aan op een overdreven manier.
C Ze stond na de pauze bij het verkeerde veld te kijken.
- 1p ○ 3 → Wat gebeurde er toen Matt voor het eerst bij zijn vriendin thuis kwam?

BOYS' CONFESSIONS!

Embarrassed? Even boys can't hide their red-cheeked moments!

Letting the side down

"I took my girlfriend to a football match so she could see how I spend my Saturdays and she seemed to be enjoying herself. After half-time the teams swapped ends and the opposition scored, only she didn't realise it was the other team and jumped up cheering! Everyone looked at her and I had to hide my embarrassed laughter in my scarf."

Paul, 17, York

Crash and burn

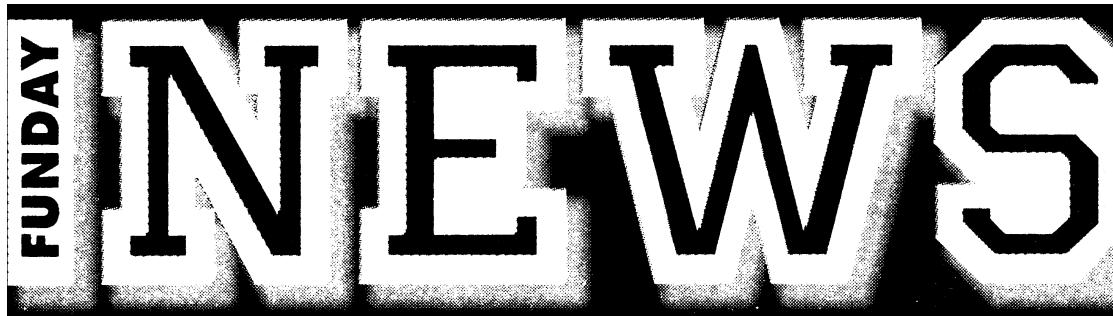

"The first time I went round to my girlfriend's house I really wanted to make a good impression. I walked into the hall and her parents came out to say hello, but as we headed through to the kitchen I banged into a mirror and it went crashing to the floor!"

Matt, 16, Lichfield

TEKST 3

- 1p ● 4 Waarom zijn vierkante blikken beter dan ronde, volgens Terry Robins?
- A Ze hebben een grotere inhoud.
 - B Ze nemen minder plaats in.
 - C Ze zijn makkelijker te openen.
 - D Ze zijn makkelijker vast te houden.

It's uncanny

Square is the shape of the future, according to Sainsbury's – the first firm to put an end to round cans! Starting with soups and baked beans, these new square tins will appear on the supermarket's shelves within the next six months. "When you think about it, everything else in a supermarket is square – the trolleys, baskets, boxes, even the lorries which transport our food – so surely square cans make a lot of sense," Sainsbury's Terry Robins says. "We will be able to fit 20% more square cans on our shelves than round ones, and our customers will be able to save a lot of space in kitchen cupboards."

MADONNA BEFRIENDS DYING GIRL

According to reports, Madonna befriended a Canadian girl suffering from an unusual form of liver cancer. She called her daily and helped her to stay positive.

The first visit between the superstar and Kerri Yascheshyn, 17, was arranged by the Children's Wish Foundation, but Madonna herself kept the relationship going.

"Madonna was very friendly and encouraged Kerri to pray," said Gail, the teenager's mother. "She kept telling her not to be negative and she would call whenever she thought about Kerri, sometimes from her mobile phone."

The report also states that Madonna sent Kerri books and bottles of 'healing water'. Madonna's own mother was French Canadian and died of cancer in 1963.

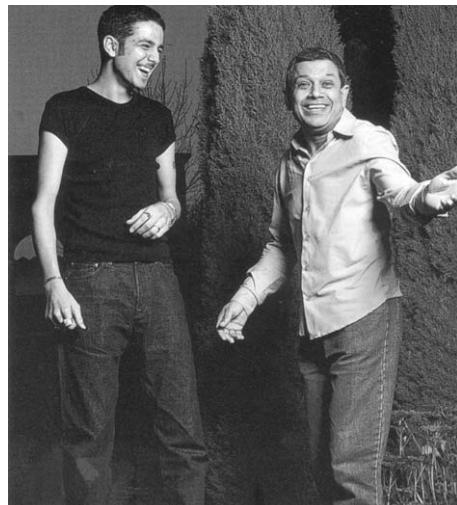

- 1p ● 5 Hoe kwam Kerri in contact met Madonna?
- A Een organisatie die wensen van kinderen vervult, regelde een ontmoeting.
 - B Madonna bracht een bezoek aan het ziekenhuis waarin Kerri lag.
 - C Madonna hoorde over Kerri's ziekte en belde haar zelf op.
 - D Via de fanclub mocht Kerri Madonna ontmoeten na een concert.
- 1p ● 6 Madonna en Kerri bleven contact met elkaar houden
- A omdat Kerri dat graag wilde.
 - B omdat Madonna zelf dat graag wilde.
 - C op verzoek van Kerri's moeder.
- 3p O 7 Madonna deed een aantal dingen om Kerri te steunen.
→ Schrijf drie dingen op.
- 1p O 8 → Waarom leefde Madonna zo mee met Kerri volgens de tekst?

My father parties harder than me!

Shane Cody (21) thinks his dad Peter (50) who is a DJ and owns the Nightclub Co2 in Hatfield, is really cool.

Here is Shane's story:

- 1 "I remember I had to tell my class what my dad's job was. The other kids were saying things like 'electrician' and 'salesman'. They all laughed when I said my dad was a DJ, but now my friends think it's dead cool. If you have old-fashioned parents, you might think my dad is a bit of a party animal, but his job always seemed normal to me."
- 2 "I sometimes DJ for my dad at his club. I like going out, but I'm nowhere as bad as him. He's 50 and out clubbing almost every night! It gets embarrassing when he starts telling my mates about his wild seventies disco days, but they would all like him to be their dad because he's so much fun."

DJ dad Peter practises throwing roses and kisses to the ladies

- 3 Dad's been DJing for 28 years, so he's got an awesome record collection, including every Michael Jackson record.

"He helped me buy my equipment when I was 14 and even comes to London quite often to watch me do my set. At the end of the night I'm dead tired and just want to go home, but you can't get him off the dancefloor!"

Here is Peter's story:

- 4 "Not every kid can say their dad's a DJ, but Shane can. My current favourite tunes are Life's too short and Flawless, but I play seventies disco too. My job means that my life is like one big night out. I DJ three nights a week at Co2 and once a week on Fridays at a local club called Limetrees."
- 5 "I'm from the old school of DJing. I talk as well as play music and I'm a total flirt. I give roses to the ladies and they love it. If anyone knew my real age, they wouldn't believe it. I certainly don't act it."
- 6 "Shane DJs at the club too. Now he's got a girlfriend, Leila, so we don't go out together as much as before. He's settled down – while I'm the one who is going out all the time. My wife Rachel loves partying too, so we'll go out at a club in London or I'll go out with my mates. I often go to bed at 4am. I love the social life that goes with DJing and clothes are part of that. My clubbing gear tends to be Replay and Diesel. I'm a label-boy and I like to look good."
- 7 "I've always encouraged Shane to go out – I even made him fake an ID card when he was 15! But I'm far more rebellious than he is. Even now, I can't see myself calming down. One day I'll still be clubbing on my Zimmer frame¹⁾!"

Curry in a hurry

When the buffet car on an express train from Edinburgh to London ran out of food, passenger Deke Primo didn't want to go hungry. The passenger called Talking Pages to get phone numbers for curry restaurants in the Peterborough area, where the train was going to stop next. One restaurant agreed to bring some tasty tikkas to Deke and his daughter Jodi. "From then on it was like a military operation," explains Deke. "I had to tell the restaurant the exact time we were going to arrive in Peterborough, the platform number and that we were in Coach H."

When the train rolled into the station, a waiter delivered Deke's supper of two tikka masalas and pilau rice.

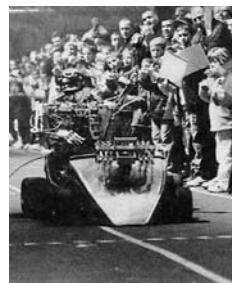

- 1p ● 18 Waarom bestelde Deke Primo eten vanuit de trein?
- A De bediening in de trein was erg slecht.
 - B Er was geen eten meer te krijgen in de trein.
 - C Hij vond het eten in de trein niet zo smakelijk.
- 1p ● 19 Hoe kwam Deke Primo te weten waar hij eten kon bestellen?
- A Hij belde een informatielijn om nummers van restaurants op te vragen.
 - B Hij belde het nummer van een restaurant waar hij wel vaker ging eten.
 - C Hij vroeg de conducteur om het nummer van een afhaalrestaurant.
- 3p ○ 20 Welke informatie had het restaurant nodig om het bestelde eten te kunnen bezorgen?
→ Schrijf drie dingen op.

TEKST 7

→ Schrijf op waar je naar toe gaat.

Techno titans

The UK's biggest robotic competition, Techno Games, kicks off tomorrow – and you can catch it for the next fortnight on BBC2, every weekday, at 6.45pm. The show, which is hosted by Philippa Forrester and Andy Collins, is in its third year and has more than 250 teams competing in 21 sporting events, including swimming, sumo and rope climbing.

Spin city

If you're manic about mountain bikes or think BMX is the best, point your wheels towards Bike Live at Newham Park in Plymouth next weekend. The best bikers in Britain will be taking part in speed trials, cross country races and Swatch Biker X – that's four-man downhill racing on the UK's most extreme course! You can even bring your own bike and tackle some of the test tracks yourself. Get in gear and call the ticket hotline on 01458 271148. A one-day pass to Bike Live costs £6 for children (aged 8-14), £8 for adults, or there's a family ticket (two adults, two children) for £22.

Fright nights!

Spooky music, laser shows, spine-chilling movies in pitch blackness! Sounds up your street? Then get yourself down to Chessington World Of Adventures on October 26th and 27th, or November 2nd and 3rd for a night that'll be truly out of this world!

TEKST 9

- 1p ● 23 Waarom werden Katherine en Mahoud weggestuurd uit een bioscoop in Newcastle?
- A Het publiek had last van het gehuil van hun baby.
 - B Hun baby was te jong voor de film die werd gedraaid.
 - C Ze hadden geen kaartje gekocht voor hun baby.

NEWS IN BRIEF

BABY BARRED FROM FILM

A cinema-loving couple and their 11-week-old baby were kicked out of a film with adults only because staff feared that if the baby woke up she would be watching the film under-age. Katherine Edmonds, Mahoud El-Kurdi and baby Sara were asked to leave the Warner Bros complex in Newcastle because of fears that she was too young to watch 'Air Force One'. Mum Katherine said: "Babies of that age cannot focus, and can't understand what's going on." A Warner Bros spokesman said the cinema manager had no choice because managers can lose their licence for letting in anyone under-age.

TEKST 10

- 1p ● 24 Waaruit blijkt dat Dan Homes gek is op computers?
- A Hij geeft zijn hele salaris uit aan Sony computerspelletjes.
 - B Hij heeft zijn naam laten veranderen in PlayStation2.
 - C Hij wil alleen een vriendin die ook gek is op computerspelletjes.

I'm game

Dan Homes, 29, from Banbury loves playing computer games so much that he has changed his name into PlayStation2! Dan, who spends four hours each day on his console, has so far spent £7,000 on more than 200 games. "Most guys say the love of their life is a girlfriend or wife, but I don't have one, so mine is my PlayStation," says Dan. "Everyone teases me with it, so it seemed natural to change my name. I have even informed my doctor."

A Sony spokesman adds "Dan is our greatest fan."

“MUM WAS ON THE 99th FLOOR OF THE WORLD TRADE CENTRE!”

Somalia's story

1 Tuesday September 11 had started like any other day. But when I got to my school, about 30 minutes away from where I live in Brooklyn, I realised that something was wrong. In class, just after 9am, the teacher made an announcement.

“The World Trade Centre blew up,” she said. She didn’t say how, or why. She wasn’t panicking, but the students were in total shock.

2 My whole body started shaking with fear. My mum worked for an insurance company on the 99th floor of the second tower, so she was there! My teacher sent me to the headmaster’s office. I started calling home, but I couldn’t get through. I tried again and again, but when I finally got through no one answered the phone.

3 CNN (the US News channel) was on in the school hall and I watched in horror as they replayed scenes of the plane flying into the tower where my mother worked. All I could think about was that my mum was trapped inside. I knew she wasn’t a fast runner – and what if she couldn’t escape?

4 With my aunt and grandmother I waited for news about mum. It took hours and hours but finally mum came home. I just cried because I was so happy! She was limping and she had lost her shoes. Her dress was torn and her hair was white from the ash. With thousands of other people she had walked across Brooklyn Bridge to where we live.

5 Later she told us how she was having coffee at her desk when the first plane hit the first tower. A colleague burst into the office screaming the news. Mum immediately started to make her way down the 99 flights of emergency stairs. When she reached the 44th floor, about 15 minutes later, the whole building began to tremble and there was an enormous crash.

Somalia and her mother

6 That’s when the second plane smashed into the 79th floor of her building. People were screaming and praying as they were running down the stairs. When mum reached the ground floor she began running for her life through the terrible mess. There was a blanket of grey smoke over the city.

7 My mum survived the attack and I feel blessed, but 200 of my mum’s colleagues died on September 11. Our lives have changed. Every time my mum goes out somewhere she tells my sisters and me how much she loves us. She has completely lost her appetite and has been getting some therapy. It will take a long time for her to get over it. But I thank God every day that my mother is still alive.

- A Ze herhaalden telkens het moment dat het vliegtuig de toren in vloog.
B Ze kwamen op school om reacties van leerlingen te filmen.
C Ze zonden beelden uit waarop haar moeder te zien was.
- 1p ○ 28 → Waarom was Somalia bang dat haar moeder niet uit het ingestorte gebouw kon ontsnappen? (alinea 3)
- 3p ○ 29 'finally mum came home' (alinea 4)
Beschrijf hoe Somalia's moeder er aan toe was.
→ Schrijf drie dingen op.
- 1p ● 30 Hoe reageerde de moeder van Somalia toen het vliegtuig tegen de eerste toren botste?
(alinea 5)
- A Ze begon de trappen van de nooduitgang af te rennen.
B Ze nam direct de lift naar beneden.
C Ze waarschuwde haar naaste collega's.
- 1p ● 31 Wat gebeurde er toen Somalia's moeder eindelijk beneden was? (alinea 6)
- A Ze had niet meer de kracht om weg te rennen.
B Ze rende zo snel mogelijk door de chaos.
C Ze zag door de rook niet meer welke kant ze op moest rennen.
- 2p ○ 32 → Zijn de onderstaande beweringen over Somalia's moeder juist of onjuist? (alinea 7)
Omcirkel 'juist' of 'onjuist' in je uitwerkbijlage.
- 1 Ze durft niet meer alleen de straat op.
 - 2 Ze praat de hele dag met haar dochters over wat er gebeurd is.
 - 3 Zij eet slecht.
 - 4 Ze krijgt hulp bij het verwerken van haar problemen.

Let op: de laatste vragen van dit examen staan op de volgende pagina.

Cat-Chup

- 1 While most cats are happy with a saucer of milk, Felix the cat loves nothing more than feasting on a bit of tomato ketchup! Gemma Downing, owner of the sauce-obsessed cat, discovered her cat's preference for the red stuff while she was eating a bacon sandwich. She first thought Felix was begging for a piece of bacon. But when she let him have a piece, it was only the ketchup he wanted. He didn't touch the bacon!
- 2 Now Felix is often on two legs licking up the remains of the sauce around the bottle neck. "He can't get enough of it," said 18-year-old Gemma. Felix now has a saucer of ketchup every night before he curls up! "When I get the bottle out from the cupboard he starts purring and rubbing my leg!" added Gemma.

- 1p ● 33 Hoe kwam Gemma Downing erachter dat haar kat Felix van ketchup hield? (alinea 1)
- A Er viel een fles ketchup om en Felix likte alles op.
 - B Felix likte altijd de restjes uit de doppen van de ketchupflessen.
 - C Ze gaf Felix wat spek maar hij likte alleen de ketchup eraf.
- 1p ● 34 Hoe eet Felix zijn ketchup nu? (alinea 2)
- A in combinatie met een schoteltje melk
 - B over zijn schoteltje kattenvoer uit blik
 - C zo uit de fles op een schoteltje

- 1p ● 35 Waar klaagt Mark Cory over?
In de schoolkantine
- A is er veel te weinig keus voor zo'n hoge prijs.
 - B is het eten van slechte kwaliteit.
 - C zijn alle etenswaren te snel uitverkocht.
 - D zijn de prijzen te hoog voor jongeren.

Dear f-mail,

I think that our schools are charging too much for food in the canteens. It is horrible to charge such prices for students aged 11 to 17. For example a small portion of chips used to cost a reasonable 40p but every six months they have gone up 5p or 10p and they now cost 80p. Exactly double the price they were three years ago. Also pizza is now 80p for 4 square centimetres of pizza topping and the rest is crust. You need to see it to believe it! Anyway I wonder if other students have the same problem?

Mark Cory, Essex
